Dear friends and neighbors,

Every day I work as your state senator is an honor. Over the years, we have celebrated many victories together including record investments in jobs, transportation and education. I've worked to improve access to health care and fought for better teacher salaries and fair and lower taxes.

The 2018 session was exceptionally productive. In a short 60-day session (which after the marathon sessions of the past few years is a win all by itself), we put people first and achieved major victories on behalf of our state and our community, including:

- A $391 million property tax cut next year for homeowners across the state
- Creating 19,000 family-wage jobs in the capital budget
- Exposure of secret money in elections
- A tourism bill that will benefit small businesses across Washington
- Significant investments in:
  - o Students, teachers and classrooms
  - o Mental health
  - o Fighting the opioid crisis that is ravaging communities across Washington
  - o College access and affordability

I am proud of what we achieved this year and I am excited for the future. As we all watch the other Washington in disbelief, this year served as a reminder, we can accomplish so much when we work together with the shared goal of making life better for every Washingtonian.

It continues to be the great honor of my life to serve you in the state Senate. Thank you for your continued support and friendship.

Yours in service,

Sen. Steve Hobbs (D)

Investing in our communities

We live in the fastest growing area of the state. There is a population and economic boom underway throughout communities in Snohomish County. Our economic future is bright, but we must be sure of two things – one is that all people in Snohomish County share in the good fortune. I continue to fight for jobs, small businesses, and fair taxes, which is why I was proud to vote for a property tax cut this session. Two, we must ensure our growth doesn't surpass that of our roads, buildings and the rest of our existing infrastructure.

That's why I continue to fight for our communities in Olympia, to ensure that when investments are made here at home they support and foster growth, not hinder it. As you can see from the map below, there are projects underway throughout our district aimed at addressing traffic congestion, modernizing our infrastructure, increasing safety and improving our overall quality of life.

I will continue to fight for you and be your voice in the state Senate.
